Liability Release

WARNING: Under Colorado Law, an equine professional is not liable for an injury to or the death of a participant in equine activities resulting from the inherent risks of equine activities, pursuant to section 13-21-119, Colorado Revised Statutes. Inherent risks include, but are not limited to, the propensity of horses to behave unpredictably, collisions, surface conditions, and actions or omissions of riders. Equine activities, by their nature, present the risk of injury and/or illness that may range in severity from minor to long- term, catastrophic or death. Equine activities also present a risk of loss or damage to personal property, including horses. It is not possible to eliminate the risk to participants.
